

Worksheet 1: Describing the Project

In this project you are going to work individually to make a poem about electricity and - individually or in pairs - to make a poster where your poems are displayed digitally. Alternatively, you may decide on a poster made on cardboard. Your poster and poem are to be presented orally and the final work should be presented and evaluated by your classmates, your teacher and yourself. You will be assigned one written (written competence) and one oral (oral competence) mark.

Lesson 1-2 Tuning In

- Focus on vocabulary – using online dictionaries and working with words and expressions associated with electricity
- Focus on listening - working with a listening text about electrical wiring
- Introducing our project

Lesson 3-4 Poem Generator Workshop

- Focus on reading and reciting poems
- Focus on words and grammar to make a poem
- Trying out The Poem Generator

Lesson 5-6 Poetry Workshop

- What is a poem?
- Making a poster with your own electricity poem

Lesson 7

- Presentations and assessment

Some information about the poems, posters and presentations - and the assessment: The layout of a poem might also be significant and may add meaning to the poem. By learning how to make a poster where you can display your poem(s), you can illustrate and use devices to highlight elements in your poem(s). The poster work may be performed as pair work.

You present your poster and poem orally in class. The presentation and your poem will be evaluated by your classmates and your teacher according to certain criteria. Finally you will be asked to assess your own work with this project. You will be assigned one written (written competence) and one oral (oral competence) mark.
